direction.

Ypsilanti Race Meeting.

YPSILANTI, Sept. 15.—For the first time in many years the month of September will roll by without the usual fair in Ypsilanti, the Eastern Michigan Agricultural society having some time ago decided not to hold one. Horse racing has always been the star attraction of these exhibits, and more on this account than any other would the fair be missed. Horselovers, and there are many here, were feeling somewhat despondent because of being obliged to forego the customary fall races, when George H. Hammond stepped to the rescue by hanging up purses for a two days' meet to be held on his one-mile track at Simmocolon stock farm one mile south of this city; September 22 and 23 are the dates.

Agricultural College.